The Tastiest Pieces of Art
Culinary Arts Salon Display at The Forks Market

The Forks Market, Winnipeg – Some artists use oils, others clay. For this competition the artists are creating their masterpieces from food. Visit The Forks Market between March 12 and 18 and feast your eyes on some delicious works of art.

"The Culinary Arts Salon is an annual competition where the best chefs in the city square off against each other," says Mo Razik, Event Producer. "Visitors to The Market will enjoy the scrumptious winning results, but these treats are for the eyes only."

The entire display is brought directly to The Forks Market immediately following the March 11th Culinary Arts Salon, an annual competition hosted by the Winnipeg Branch of the Canadian Culinary Federation at the Greenwood Inn. The competition is open to local chefs, apprentices and student chefs from around Manitoba.

"In previous years, we've seen lard devils, unique wedding cakes, chocolate paintings and chocolate sculptures," says Razik. "These creations are really only limited by the participant's imagination."

In support of this event, winning chefs from the Manitoba Culinary Team will be offering cooking demonstrations on Friday, March 9 and Saturday, March 10 in Centre Court of The Forks Market.

This is a program initiative of The Forks Market and Fenton's Gourmet Foods with the cooperation of the Canadian Culinary Federation and the support of The Winnipeg Sun.
